THE SWISS CHURCH LONDON

History at the Swiss Church

'War, Women and Wounds: Endell Street War Hospital and Beyond' Thursday 6th October, 6:30pm

During the Great War, women tended the sick and wounded as doctors, nurses, VADs and hospital visitors. In this history of service Endell Street Military Hospital, set up in the old St Giles' Workhouse, was unique not only in being an official military hospital run by women but also a militantly suffragette hospital.

This talk focuses on what made Endell Street so special and looks at the wider context of women in wartime medicine. A talk by Kevin Brown, Archivist at Imperial College.
